

Sr. Sheila Tague, MSC

I was born in Sacred Heart Hospital in Norristown, Pennsylvania. Sacred Heart Hospital was one of the ministries of The Missionary Sisters of the Most Sacred Heart of Jesus (MSC).

Because I wanted deeply to be a missionary, I chose to join the MSC Sisters. I entered the novitiate on 9/7/60 and made first vows in 1962.

I began my ministry as an elementary school teacher for twenty years, and I also did some private tutoring.

During the 80's and 90's I worked with homeless women and children at the McCauley Center in Scranton, Pennsylvania.

By the year 2008, I was ministering to patients, often praying with them before surgery, at our former MSC hospital, St. Mary's Hospital in Georgia.

I am now retired, living at St. Joseph Villa in Reading, PA. I am deeply involved in Prayer Ministry, and I try to help out wherever I can.
